to deepen your understanding of the interplay between climate issues, climate action and democracy.

This talk will explore how we can achieve successful and inclusive climate transitions, as outlined in the European Green Deal and the Paris Agreement, while strengthening democratic governance. It will discuss the role democratic innovations such as citizens' assemblies can play in creating the conditions for more inclusive climate transitions, in line with the EU's vision of a just and participatory green transition.

MODERATOR: Daniela Ferrari

This webinar is one of several initiatives carried out by GrACE – Green Europe: Active Citizenship and the Environment, an international teacher training programme led by the University of Trento. It aims to provide educators with comprehensive knowledge of environmental issues and the EU's strategies for tackling the climate crisis, along with innovative methods for teaching about green issues.

Participants with minimum 75% of attendance during the session will receive an official Certificate of Attendance issued by the University of Trento/JM Centre upon request.
