

THE CLIMATE PARADOX: EVIDENCE CARDS

Cut out the cards along the border and distribute all four cards to each group

Warmer air increases evaporation from soil and oceans.	Warm air can hold more water vapour than cold air.
When warm, humid air cools quickly, large amounts of rain can fall.	Higher temperatures dry out soil faster.